Leader

Winter drawers on and time to be thinking about the big project for next year. Maybe our series on Ancients might have inspired you to have a dabble in that direction. Our main outing this issue is on that famous Asian, Genghis Khan (or Chinghis Khan, or Chinggis Khan, or...) – he certainly met his targets but maybe not always in the nicest of ways! Wayne Richards speaks of his eventful life and times. As for the rest of the issue we have some more ideas for you – how about a Flames of War army done very fast? Again those with the need for speed need look no further than those frenetic Scandanavians, The Army Painter. After doing their Legion in a Day they turn their hand to the Big Red One. To round off we continue our Starting with .... Series and finally as The Great War is currently very topical we look at the Anzacs at Gallipoli.

The Immortels de Paris-Ouest

We are the oldest wargame club in France, founded in 1979. We meet every Friday night at the Maison des Associations, 24 rue Pierre Brossolette in Levallois-Perret, from 8p.m. on. Our main interest is historical wargaming, in 10mm, 15mm and 28mm. All historical periods are well represented, with a strong bias for Ancients and Middle-Ages. Here's a purposely non-exhaustive list of the wargame rules we used this year : Fields of Glory, Warmaster Ancients, Pig wars, Warmachine, Blitzkrieg, This Very Ground, Might&Reason... If you're visiting Paris and want to know what gallic wargaming means, drop us an e-mail, we'll be glad to welcome you. Check your insurance policy before, though - it can be a dramatic experience indeed.
